

Detailed Design Specs

These detailed design pages contain a written description of specific pieces of the GMAT system. They provide a low level view of the described subsystems. As such, the detailed design information in these pages is intended for use in extending the subsystem, adding new functionality as needed.

- Data Readers

GMAT's data reader classes are used to import data from external sources into GMAT objects.