Overview of Governance Resources

The Governance pages describe how we work and what we're working on. Pages below contain links to features identified for current and near term development.

Current Activities

We track scheduled and near term work in JIRA. See the Current Activities page for our high level priority areas and for links to what we are actively developing and what items have been identified for completion by the next release of GMAT.

Ticket System

We use JIRA as a bug database, and as a tracking tool for scheduled work. Below are links to items such as guidelines for when and how to submit a ticket and how we schedule and track work items.
